

Full-time EFL Faculty Wanted

EFL Program (http://hss.kaist.ac.kr/sub10/01\_06.php) at Korea Advanced Institute of Science and Technology (KAIST- <http://www.kaist.edu/html/en/index.html>), South Korea, is opening its search for multiple full-time positions of EFL faculty. KAIST is Korea's most prominent and world-renown engineering institution, educating Korea's brightest. We teach most of the courses in English; therefore, English language education is given high emphasis. Its campus is located in the Daedeok Innopolis (<http://innopolis.or.kr/eng/>), Korea's R&D center, 150 km south of Seoul. It takes 50 minutes from the capital city by KTX, the Korean bullet train.

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS: Master's degree in TESOL or Applied Linguistics; native fluency; and two-year teaching experience at the college level. We are particularly interested in candidates with experiences in teaching EFL to engineering students. Candidates with expertise in scientific writing and CLIL/EMI (Content and language integrated learning/English-medium instruction) will be given preference.

DUTIES: Teaching 12 hours per week in spring and fall semesters; 2 additional weekly hours of teaching or tutoring; curriculum development; serving on committees; and performing other university-related responsibilities

SALARY & BENEFITS: Commensurate with qualifications and experience plus housing and other benefits.

STARTING DATE: August 21, 2017

Send a letter of application, a copy of passport, a resume with three references including email addresses and phone numbers, and transcripts to Ms. Chloe Kwon, Coordinator of EFL Program, at (email) chloekwon717@kaist.ac.kr or (regular mail) School of Humanities and Social Sciences, 291 Daehak-ro, Yuseong-gu, Daejeon, 34141, South Korea. For more information, contact Ms. Kwon at her email or phone +82 42 350 4686.
